Effective Communication for Teachers

TEACHER+ CONTINUES!

The Teacher+ project will officially end on 31st August 2022. However, the training programme and the educational game we developed will remain active and available: teachers can still take the course to improve their soft skills and test them through the Teacher+ game.

Since the end of the pilot test on 30th April, 170 teachers self-enrolled in the Teacher+ course, and 20% of them have already completed the programme. We're delighted that our project has been so successful and continues attracting new users!

10 STEPS TO SET UP SOFT SKILLS LABS FOR TEACHERS

The Teacher+ Transferability Toolkit aims to support the setting up of 'Soft Skills Labs' that will provide services for teachers' continuing professional development. Toolkit users could include school managers, who would like to set up a 'soft skills unit' in their school; representatives of local education agencies who are interested in setting up local or regional 'skills hubs' to support teachers; policy-makers at regional, national and trans-national levels.

The Toolkit is essentially a Handbook (User Manual) that takes the user through the 'Ten Steps' required to successfully transfer the Soft Skills Lab model - and the TEACHER+ training programme - to their own context.

The Toolkit structure follows a process based on '10 Steps to Transferability'. These steps are what are required to help you develop a Soft Skills Lab and adapt and transfer the TEACHER+ training programme to suit that Lab's context and needs.
